Excerpt from Rabies and How to Prevent It: A Paper Read Before the American Social Science Association, Saratoga, September 8, 1886 Essentially an old disease, despite of what many say, since we find mention of it in old Latin and Greek authors, - it is probable that the name of none of the ills inflicted on suffering humanity strikes with such dire effect upon the ordinary mind as does this one word, - rabies or hydrophobia. For many years this last term has been applied more especially to the disease as it manifests itself in the human being, but even in this case it is a misnomer, and the sooner it is done away with and banished from both scientific and ordinary dictionaries the better. Derived from the two Greek words hudor, water, phobos, fear, it indicates a symptom found in certain cases in man, but by no means invariably, and only rarely met with in dogs and other animals. The apparent dread of all liquids in man is more especially intensified by the fact that all...
